

ETFS Long CNY Short USD (LCNY)

Investment objective

ETFS Long CNY Short USD (LCNY) is designed to track the MSFXSM Long Chinese Renminbi Index (TR) which aims to reflect movements in the price of Non Deliverable Forward (NDF) contracts.

About the security

LCNY is a debt security which can be created or redeemed on demand (by authorised participants). It trades on Exchange just like an equity and its pricing and tracking operate similar to an Exchange Traded Fund.

Collateralisation

LCNY is backed by Currency Transactions entered into with a Currency Transaction Counterparty (CTC). Counterparty risk is minimised by way of daily mark to market payments, and cash is used to enter repo transactions with the CTC in exchange for eligible collateral. The eligible collateral is held by the collateral manager BNY Mellon in a custody account and valued daily.

- Simple to trade on a major stock exchange
- Settled and held in ordinary brokerage accounts
- Transparent tracking with clear pricing
- Currency securities are collateralised with BNY Mellon as collateral manager
- Provides additional portfolio diversification
- Able to short, and margin eligible
