

ETFS Leveraged Gasoline

Investment Objective

ETFS Leveraged Gasoline (LGAS) is designed to provide investors with a total return equivalent (before fees and expenses) to 200% of the daily percentage change in the Dow Jones-UBS Unleaded Gasoline SubindexSM (the "Sub Index"), which is an index tracking the futures price of gasoline plus a collateral yield.

LGAS is an Exchange Traded Commodity ("ETC") that can be created and redeemed on demand (by Authorised Participants). It trades on exchanges just like an equity and its pricing and tracking operates similarly to an Exchange Traded Fund.

The ETC is backed by contracts (fully funded swaps) with counterparties whose payment obligations are backed by collateral which is marked to market daily. The collateral is held in pledge accounts at The Bank of New York Mellon. Details of the collateral held are available at: www.etfsecurities.com/en/securities/etfs_collateral.asp.

Specific Features of Leveraged ETCs

These products deliver a leveraged daily percentage change.

Leveraged ETCs, excluding fees and expenses, will deliver twice the return of the underlying index relative to the previous day's close, increasing by a factor of two the underlying index's gain or loss.

No margin account is required.

The products provide a cost efficient way of obtaining leveraged exposure.

There is no scope for a contingent liability so the amount invested represents an investor's maximum possible loss.

Index Description

Dow Jones-UBS Unleaded Gasoline SubindexSM is based on the gasoline component used in Dow Jones-UBS Commodity IndexSM.

The Subindex reflects the movement of the gasoline futures contracts.

Information about the rolling of the futures contracts is set out in the prospectus and in the index methodology available at www.djindexes.com/commodity.

Specific Risks of Leveraged ETCs

Returns measured over periods longer than one day may differ from twice the index's return over that period.

Daily performances are twice the daily movements of the index and therefore any falls in the index are magnified.

If the index falls by 50% or more in one day, an investment in a Leveraged ETC will lose all of its value.

Leveraged ETCs are only suitable for professional investors who understand the risks and benefits of a leveraged strategy.

Please see the Prospectus for a more detailed explanation and a more complete list of risk.
